Dear Parents and Guardians,

We will not have a spelling list for the next two weeks so the students can have a break during our TCAP testing. It is important for the third graders to continue to read and practice their math facts each night, though. Again, for the next two weeks, you can help your child by having him/her get a good night's sleep the nights before testing days and eat a good breakfast on testing mornings. We will provide healthy snacks on testing mornings, but your child may bring a healthy snack of his/her choice as well. You can also help by having your student at school on time as we will be testing first thing in the morning, and by arranging outside appointments beyond the school day so that all students are in attendance and able to take the assessment within the allotted daily time. Thank you for your support!

Please see the reverse side of this newsletter for a letter from one of our second grade students. She is requesting book donations for her community service project.

Please feel free to contact me with any comments, questions or concerns you may have regarding your child at 613-5749 or julie.elliott@thompsonschoools.org.

Sincerely,
Julie Elliott

Spelling List

*No Spelling
List/Test This Week**

Next Week in 3rd Grade:

Math: We will review skills and learn some new skills that are not a part of our larger units.

Reading: We will read and learn about legends from the Native Americans.

Writing: We will continue our work with our narrative stories—many students will be publishing this week.

Science: We will continue to discover how the past has influenced the development and interactions in a region through our study of Native Americans and pioneers.

OUR HABIT OF THE WEEK NEXT

March 1, 2013

Dear parents and students,

Good afternoon Carrie Martin students and family's. You've probably heard about the citizenship project, and that's what this letter is about! My name is Faith Crill, and I'm wondering if your family has books they don't read any more. There will be a box down at the office, until March 15th for you to drop of your books. These books will be shared in the school library. But please don't bring in scratched up or written in books. Everyone visits the library and Carrie Martin students don't like scratched up books, especially Mrs. Rusho and me. Thank you to those who bring in books, and for supporting Carrie Martin and being proactive parents and students! ☺

Sincerely ☺

Faith Crill
